

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The completion of the work for this thesis represents the opportunity to remember numerous individuals who has influenced my attitude towards PhD studies. I would like to acknowledge my debt to my professors, family and friends.

First and foremost, I would like to express my immense gratitude to my supervisor Prof. S. K. Nagar, who has not only given me a platform to work on my favorite research topic but also through his sheer dedication, patience, stimulating suggestions and serene discussions, motivated me to improve my work and come up with different ideas. The completion of this thesis would not be possible without his guidance and persistent help during my research work. His fatherly nature is the source of my inspiration and was the driving force that keeps me always on track to achieve my goal.

My profound gratitude to Prof. D. Singh, Head of Department of Electrical Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology (Banaras Hindu University), Varanasi for providing effective management, necessary facilities and valuable suggestions for success of this work. I am highly indebted to Dr. Sandip Ghosh and Dr. Shyam Kamal, Department of Electrical Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology (Banaras Hindu University), Varanasi for their valuable suggestion and encouragement to complete this thesis work. I would also like to thank all the Control System Lab members Mr. A. N. Singh, Mr. Anjaney Kumar and Mr. Ram Nagina for their kind cooperation during the course of the work.

I would like to express my special thanks to Dr. Amit Kumar Choudhary, Dr. Shekhar Yadav, Mr. Jitendra Kumar Goel, Om Prakash Bharti and Mr. Vipin Kumar for giving me continuous support and for creating a friendly and happy environment needed for completing this research work.

Finally, I wish to thank my parents (Mr. Mohan Lal Verma and Late Smt. Prabhavati Devi, loving and caring wife (Mrs. Anjana Verma) and my son Baby Aynash Verma. I wish to express indebtedness to them, for their unconditional love, extreme patience and constant supports over the years.
