

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Through words are seldom sufficient to express gratitude and feelings, it somehow gives me an opportunity to acknowledge those who helped me during the course of my study.

An understanding of the work like this is never the outcome of the efforts of a single person. I take this opportunity to express my profound sense of gratitude and respect to all those who helped me through the duration of this Ph.D. thesis. First, I would like to thank the Supreme Power, the GOD. I have always considered myself as GOD's child. He has always showered me with blessings and good luck that has helped me at every difficult step of life. Like every phase in my life, I just couldn't have attained this milestone without him and I thank him for everything that I am today.

Undoubtedly, this work would not have been possible without the encouragement and able guidance of my supervisor and mentor Prof. Arun Prasad, Professor, Department of Civil Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology (Banaras Hindu University) Varanasi. I take this opportunity to thank him for his constant guidance and invaluable advice which has made this work much easier. I will always remain grateful to him for his inspiring words and never-say-die attitude which he infused in me. I have learnt a lot from him.

I would like to thank Prof. Prabhat Kumar Singh, Head, Department of Civil Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology (Banaras Hindu University) Varanasi, for encouraging me and providing all facilities to carry out my research work.

I would also like to express my sincere thanks to RPEC members Prof. Satya Vir Singh, Department of Chemical Engineering, and Assoc. Prof. Bala Ramudu Paramkusam, Department of Civil Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology (Banaras Hindu University) Varanasi, for their stimulating help and criticism which incited me to widen my research from various perspectives, valuable inputs, suggestions and affectionate attitude. I wish to express deep regards to all the teachers and Research Associates of Department of Civil Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology (Banaras Hindu University) Varanasi, for their kind support at all moments during the progress of my research.

I express sincere thanks to Dr. Fatma Liaquat, Hindustan Zinc Limited, Udaipur, and Mr. Kapil Jain, for help me in providing, packing and transportation of Jarosite waste which is used in this study.

With a deep sense of gratitude I express my sincere thanks to Dr. Asokan Pappu, Principal Senior Scientist, Council of Scientific and Industrial Research- Advanced Material and Processes Research Institute (CSIR-AMPRI), Bhopal, for allowing me to use the laboratory and his valuable supervision to complete the project work (two month) as a part of this study.

I express my sincere thanks to the staff of Central Instrument Facility Centre (CIFC) - Indian Institute of Technology (Banaras Hindu University) Varanasi for their help in carrying out sample analysis. I am grateful to Mr. Basanta, Laboratory Assistant, Mr. Netra Pal, Mr. Deepak Kumar, Laboratory staff, and all supporting staffs of Department of Civil Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology (Banaras Hindu University) Varanasi for the assistance extended by them from time to time during this research work.

I am grateful to all the office staff and authorities of Department of Civil Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology (Banaras Hindu University) Varanasi, for their kind help during the period of my stay to complete the thesis work.

I am thankful to my seniors Mr. Ganesh Dhal, Mr. Subhashish Dey, Mr. Arnab Pandey, Mr. Satya Prakash Murya, my fellow friends Mr. Alok Ranjan, Mr. Shashi Kumar, Mr. Sujeet Kumar, Mrs. Sonali Saxsena, and Mr. Shiwanshu Shekhar. Mr. Raghu Ram and juniors Mr. Jayvant Choudhary, Mr. Manish Mandal, Mr. Manish Ranjan, and remaining all, for the thought-provoking discussions, support, cooperation and sincere help in many ways.

I can describe and pay my gratitude in thousand words but still those words will be less for my beloved parents, Mr. Jagdish Gupta and Mrs. Janki Gupta without whom I could not have seen this beautiful day and experienced some beautiful moments. Today, I take this opportunity to give special thanks to both of them who are living Gods for me. I will be eternally grateful to them for always being there for me in my thick and thin, showing me the right path and always giving me freedom to take my own decisions. Also, I wish to acknowledge the emotional support provided to me by my sisters, Dr. Swati Nagar and Miss Nandani Gupta and my wife Mrs. Akanksha Gupta, which is incomparable and was unconditional. My special thanks to them for their unconditional love, moral support, encouragement and motivation to get me through my Ph.D. I would also like to express my gratitude to all relatives and in-laws who have encouraged me and have always remained by me. I would also thank the people of my home town BAGLI. They have always given support and infused the confidence in me whenever I was went to my home town.
