It is very difficult to name all the sources of inspiration; moreover, words are often too feeble a mode of revealing one's sentiments and feelings. At the outset I would like to take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to my research supervisor Dr. Nand Kishore Prasad for his insightful guidance, patience and constant encouragements during my entire research work. Also I would like to extend my deep sense of gratitude to my co-supervisor Prof. R.K. Mandal, at Department of Metallurgical Engg., IIT(BHU). I have learnt many things about research and various skills from him. His passionate devotion in nanomaterials and relentless curiosity in magnetic materials research has been and will always remain a great inspiration for me and my future career.

I express my gratitude to current Head of the Department Prof. N.K. Mukhopadhyay, for providing me required facilities of the department. I also wish to thank my RPC members Dr. Chandan Upadhyay for the invaluable inspiration and numerous insightful suggestions during the entire course of this research. I am also grateful to faculty members Dr. Rampada Manna, Dr. Kausik Chattopadhyay, Dr. Bratindranath Mukherjee for their valuable suggestions and help time to time in my research period. I am also thankful to all the technical specially Shushil ji and Lalit ji, non-teaching as well as official staffs of the Department of Metallurgical Engg., IIT (BHU) for their assistance when needed and also for providing me numerous reliefs at times.

I would also take this opportunity to extend my sincere thanks to Sher Singh Meena, BARC, Senior Scientist at BARC, Mumbai, Prof. S.K. Nath, IIT(Roorkee), Prof. Morankar sir and Prof. A.K. Mishra sir, AVCOE, Sangamner for his valuable inputs, insightful comments and constructive criticisms at different stages of my research which were thought-provoking and helped me to focus on my ideas.

In addition, I have been privileged to work with Dr. Santhosh Kumar Alla.. I heartedly recognize them for their support and valuable suggestions.

It is with sincere gratitude that I wish to thank my labmates shubam, Asnit and Anurag my lab and my research colleagues Mr. Manish bhaiya who put up with me throughout the whole research process and helped me with personal challenges in particular, during all these years. I feel short of words to express my appreciation, gratitude and indebtedness to my father Sri Om Prakash Srivastava and mother Smt. Neelima Savant and my sister Dr. Mudita Srivastava, Aryash Srivastava, Mr. Abhishek Srivastava. Late grandfather Shri Avinash Chandra Srivastava and grandmother for their unbounded love, blessings, encouragement and supports in various ways. I thank them for instilling in me the importance of education and balance in life. I also wish to share my appreciation to my wife Pratima, Mr. Prashant Srivastava for their blessings and support. I cannot conclude my acknowledgements without expressing my deep feeling of indebtedness to my Nana and Nani maa., without whom I would never make it this far in life. I would also like to acknowledge the funding agencies MHRD of Government of India, for financial assistance in various forms. Many others that have been involved also deserve recognition. It is however, not possible to list them all here. Their support in this effort is, however, greatly appreciated but this acknowledgement would be incomplete if the name of great visionary, Pt. Madan Mohan Malviyaji, is not mentioned, who made this divine centre of knowledge –Banaras Hindu University. Deepest regards to him. Last but not least, I wish to thank all my friends and foes and the persons whose names have not been included on this piece of paper for extending their cooperation directly or indirectly. Finally, I am grateful to Almighty for giving me patience to make this endeavor a success.

Sincerely,

(Manas Srivastava)
