Though only my name appears on the cover of this dissertation, so many great people have contributed to its production. I owe my gratitude to all those people who have made this thesis possible and because of whom my research experience has been one that I will cherish forever.

Firstly, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my advisor Dr Brind Kumar for the continuous support of my PhD study and related research, for his patience, motivation, and immense knowledge. His guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my PhD study.

Besides my advisor, I would like to thank the rest of my Research Progress Evaluation Committee: Dr P. R. Maiti and Dr A. K. Singh for their insightful comments and encouragement, but also for the hard question which incited me to widen my research from various perspectives.

My sincere thanks also go to Prof. Prabhat Kumar Singh, Head of the Department of Civil Engineering who gave me access to the laboratory and research facilities. Without his precious support, it would not be possible to conduct this research.

I want to express my deepest gratitude to the technical staff of the Transportation Engineering Section: Mr Amit Singh and Mr R. B. Bhandari, who provided me with technical support during my research program.

Last but not the least; I would like to thank my family: my parents and my sister for supporting me spiritually and providing constant encouragement throughout the course of this dissertation. I would also like to thank my Uncle: Santosh Shukla (Chief Project Manager-III, RVNL, Varanasi) for making sure that there is no shortage of the correct type of cement for testing during the complete tenure of my research.

Above all, I would like to thank my wife Uma Tiwari for her love and constant emotional and financial support, for all the late nights and early mornings, and for keeping me sane over the past few months. Thank you for being my muse and my best friend. I owe you everything.
