Mere words are not enough to recapitulate the debt of gratitude to all who deserve the credit for the grand culmination of this work still the satisfaction and euphoria that accompanies the successful completion of any task will be incomplete without mentioning the names of the people whose direct and indirect support made it possible. First of all, I bow with reverence to thank the ALMIGHTY who has enriched me with such a golden opportunity and infused the power in my mind to fulfill the task assigned to me. Words are less to express my sincere heartfelt to Bharat Ratna Mahamana Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya Ji, founder of the prestigious temple of knowledge.

It is definitely a pleasing privilege for me to express my insightful gratefulness and indebtedness to my revered supervisor Prof. Brahmeshwar Mishra. His conscientious suggestions, creative ideas, scientific acumen, critical evaluation, boundless enthusiasm, perspicacious remarks and homely atmosphere in which he makes one work, are some of the supreme qualities that will be cherished as a quintessential example of the brilliant guidance. I shall remain indebted to him for his diligent efforts and professional competencies, which contributed towards the completion of the research work. The overwhelming enthusiasm that he has inoculated in me is not just limited to this work but will take me a long way in my life.

I am indeed obliged and sincerely thankful to Prof. S.K. Singh, Head, Department of Pharmaceutical Engineering & Technology, Indian Institute of Technology (BHU) for kindly allowing me to use the facilities required to complete my research work. I Wish to express deep regards to all the faculty members of the department Prof. Sanjay Singh, Dr. A.K. Srivastava, Prof. S.K. Shrivastava, Dr. S. Hemalatha, Dr. K. Sairam, Dr. Senthil Raja A., Dr. A.N. Sahu, Dr. S.K. Mishra, Dr. Ruchi Chawla, Dr. Ashok Maurya, Dr. M.S. Muthu, Dr. P.K. Nayak and Dr. G.P. Modi for their kind cooperation at all moments during the progress of my research. I shall fail in my duty if I do not convey my regards to all the non-teaching staff members of the department for their support and help during the research work.

I owe my deepest gratitude to my Parents for being a constant source of encouragement and support throughout my life. It is their love and trust on my abilities which has made me a person I am today. My heartfelt thanks to Mr. Jay Vardhan and Mrs. Jyoti Kiran for their constant support, encouragement, and wishes for my career. Words fail to express my immense appreciation for my wife Annu Jha who has been a constant source of priceless love, patience, moral motivation and emotional supports to me. Lastly, I would like to mention the name of my loving son Hitarth Vardhan, whose presence in my life has given a meaning to my existence and has completely changed me as a person.

I am indeed thankful to have got welcoming, and friendly fellow mates Mr. Amitabha, Mrs. Pooja, Mr. Hitesh, Ms. Laxmi, Mr. Sandeep Reddy and Ms. Mansi who were ever ready to provide me with all possible help and they created a happy working environment and foster camaraderie within the laboratory. Amongst the seniors, I would like to thanks, Mrs. Sarita Yadav for her alacrity and support during the tenure. I also extend my gratitude to all those, who have been directly or indirectly related to my project work.

My profound thank to University Grant Commission, New Delhi for the award of JRF to carry out the research work. I am also grateful to ACTREC, Mumbai for providing facilities to conduct Anti-Cancer drug screening studies, Deshpande Lab, Bhopal for providing the facility of CLSM and fluorescence microscopy, Spectro analytical lab, New Delhi for providing facility for HPLC studies, Panacea Biotec, Baddi and Evonik, Mumbai for providing gift samples during the research work. Finally, I would like to thank everybody who was important to the successful realization of the thesis, as well as expressing my apology that I could not mention personally one by one.
