

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The hardest arithmetic to master is that which enables us to count our blessings - Eric Hoffer

Foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my research supervisors Professor Anil Kumar Tripathi and Dr. Lalit Kumar Singh for the continuous support of my Ph.D study and research, for their patience, motivation, enthusiasm, and immense knowledge. Their guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis. Without their support and active participation in every step of the process, this thesis may never have been completed.

Besides my advisor, I would like to thank all member of Research Program Committee and Department Post Graduation Committee for their encouragement, insightful comments, and conceptual questions. My sincere thanks also goes to Mr. Vinayak, Scientist in NPCIL, Department of Atomic Energy, Government of India, Mumbai for helping me in solving complex mathematical problems, related to my work. I also thank Mr. Pushp Shukla, Mr. Rajesh, Mr. Sachin, Mr. Ujjawal Kishore, Scientist, Research and Development Electronics System Division, NPCIL, Mumbai, India; for suggesting me good literature and helping me through their invaluable suggestions. My time spent at this institution would never be complete without the company and assistance of my fellow researchers. I would like to convey special thanks to Mr. Kuldeep Singh, Mr. Ashish Kumar Maurya, Mr. Dharmender

Prasad Mahato, Mr. Nagendra Pratap Singh, Mr. Durgesh Singh, Mr. Sumit Jaiswal, Mr. Debanjan Sadhya, Mr. Anupam Vishwas and Mr. Vibhav Prakash Singh for their continuous moral and academic support. I extend my special thanks to the non-teaching staff in the department, especially Mr. Rajendra Kumar, Mr. Kanhaiya Lal, Mr. Bharat Pandey and Mr. Ravi Kumar Bharti for their consistent support.

Last but not the least; I want to thank my mother Smt. Kunti Jaiswal, my father Mr. Tribhuvan Prasad Jaiswal and my sister Mrs. Kiran Jaiswal for guiding me through the journey of life. They showed me the strength of resilience in the face of failures and the ability to bounce back from such situations.
